

CARTER TO BE IN IT!

Indications That He Will Represent Montana.

Senator Sanders Inclined to Help Him Along.

FEATURES OF THE NEXT CONTEST

Leaders Confident That the Legislature Will Return a Republican—Other Washington News Notes.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—[Special]—Information received here to day from Montana indicates that Chairman Thomas H. Carter, of the republican national committee, will be elected to the United States senate to succeed Senator Sanders. The latter is quoted as having said this week in a private conversation that he himself would assist Mr. Carter in the latter's election if it appeared that the full strength of the republican membership of the legislature could be thrown to the chairman. Senator Sanders finds opposition to his own re-election within the lines of his party and is not a candidate. Mr. Carter is not only popular in his own party, but has friends among the independents and democrats, who, it is said, might help in certain contingencies. The republicans are confident that Montana will elect a republican to the senate.

The indications are now that the democrats will not be able to reorganize the United States senate after the 4th of March. Much depends, however, upon the outcome of the struggle going on among the parties in Kansas.

There will be no Christmas trees, no music nor romping at the white house two weeks from to night. The three little tots who inhabit the executive mansion will not find Christmas as enjoyable this year as they did last year. Then there were electric lights throughout the great house and every member of the family blithely romped around and in the distribution of gifts made as much pleasure for every one as was possible. Mrs. Harrison was very fond of children and she took the greatest delight in arranging the gifts for her little grandchildren and making as much as possible for them of the festive day of the year.

The great griefs which have come to the family will not admit of the customary festivities this year, for there are heavy hearts at the White House yet Mrs. McKee and Mrs. Russell Harrison, however, have been quietly making preparations during the past week for the little ones. They have made numerous purchases of gifts and secreted them away from the tiny eyes, which always show so much curiosity and anxiety about Christmas time. Two weeks from to-morrow morning the children will be given the presents, but the absence of all gaieties will remind them of the sadness which possesses the older members of the family.

There will be a Christmas dinner which will be attended by all members of the president's immediate family. The recognition of the day will end there. It has been generally expected by those most intimate with the family that all social occasions would be omitted, and no public reception will take place at the White House on New Year's day or the day before or day after. All other receptions have by official notice been set aside, and there will be no state dinners. So far as society is concerned the White House will be closed till the 4th of March.

It is expected that Vice President and Mrs. Morton and Secretary and Mrs. John W. Foster will hold a number of public receptions and give some state dinners during the season. At none of these will the presidential family appear. Mrs. McKee and Mrs. Russell Harrison are receiving privately their friends now almost any hour of the day they call. Mrs. Russell Harrison had intended, as usual, to go west and spend the holidays with her parents, but at the president's solicitation she has decided to remain here instead, that the three children to the household might have a Christmas together and make each other happy.

The special committee of the house on the World's Columbian exposition will probably be called together some time this week to take up in earnest the question of the opening of the World's fair on Sunday. There is no doubt whatever that a strong fight will be made to permit the gates of the exposition to open on Sunday, and that the prospects of success are at least fairly good. Chairman Durburrow of the committee is at present waiting to learn the wishes of the fair directory before moving in the matter, and it is probable that word will be received as to exactly what they wish by the first of next week.

Mr. Durburrow has introduced a resolution on the subject in the house. An effort will first be made to take up an act on this resolution, instead of meeting the fight by way of an amendment to the general appropriation bill. The whole subject has been thoroughly discussed so that members know the merits of the question, and unless an effort be made to delay a vote, it ought to take very little time for the expression of the will of the house to be made known. If obstructive tactics should prevail the appropriation bill will still be available as a means for forcing the matter to a decisive vote.

Information was received here to-day of the death of Hon. George H. Harrington, formerly assistant secretary of the treasury and minister to Switzerland under President Lincoln. He died at sea on the 5th inst., while on his way from New York to Hamburg. P. S. H.

AS WE GROW.

The Boom Now on Those Who Are in the Procession.

Now that it is given up by every one that a big boom is about to be inaugurated in Durham and that property is compelled to advance to double and treble its present value, it is the duty of every man, old or young, who expects to ever own a home, to secure it now while it is within his reach.

Dr. J. L. Watkins is building houses on very desirable lots and selling on easy terms to a number of our young business men. If you want a home, and what man or woman does not? See Dr. Watkins and even on a small salary he will make it possible for you to own one.

ant places. And as they deserve it, they will surely find them.

Rev. H. T. Darnall ties the silken knot, and Miss Mamie Heartt and Mr. Mayo Lewis, of Milton, will be the waiters.

The ushers are: Mr. M. Irving, of Milton; Mr. J. Cobb, of Danville; Mr. John Richmond, of Milton; Mr. Easley, of South Boston.

The bride was dressed in a gray traveling suit, and the bridal party will take supper in Greensboro.

The church was handsomely decorated by Mrs. B. L. Duke, of this city.

Molly Smith Married.

At the same hour, and Cupid, you know, flits about, Miss Molly Smith was married to Mr. A. Y. Bond, of Georgia. The marriage was a family marriage—very pretty—and there were present, Mr. J. R. Brown, of Washington city; Miss Maggie Clegg, of Greensboro; Mr. H. A. Holt, of Danville; Mr. E. E. Brett, of Raleigh, and a brother of the bride, Mr. C. D. Smith, of Richmond, and this apart, of course, from the Durham friends.

Rev. L. L. Thompson tied the knot. Miss Molly was attired in a blue traveling suit and the happy couple started for Atlanta to night.

Miss Smith has been the popular telephone "girl"—and she has always been a most popular young lady. She will make a good wife for Mr. Bond, and we hear that he, as a prosperous business man will make a good husband for her.

LOOK AT THIS.

A Fine Chance to Get a Home at Low and Reasonable Prices.

The Trinity Land company who, it will be remembered, bought the T. B. Lyon land near Trinity college only a few weeks ago, have already had the property laid off and platted into nice streets and lots, and are now ready to sell the lots to any person desiring to build. It is the intention of the company to build up a nice community out there. Lots will be sold reasonable, as it is not the purpose of this company to try to make a fortune out of it. For prices, etc., apply to J. B. Warren, general manager, or C. A. Jordan, secretary and treasurer.

A Joker Among Birds.

The bluejay is the most persistent practical joker in the feathered kingdom. He will conceal himself in a clump of leaves near the spot where small birds are accustomed to gather, and when they are enjoying themselves in their own fashion will suddenly frighten them almost to death by screaming out like a hawk. Of course they scatter in every direction, and when they do so the mischievous rascal gives vent to a cackle that sounds very much like a laugh. If he confined his pranks to such jokes as this, however, he would not be such a bad neighbor to birds smaller than himself, but when he annoys himself by breaking the eggs in their nests and tearing the young to pieces with his bill he becomes a pestilent nuisance, and they often combine their forces to drive him out of the neighborhood. They do not always succeed, for he is as full of fight as of mischief, but a severe conflict teaches him that they, too, have their rights, and this induces him to mend his manners.—Toronto Mail.

Fishing for Sponges.

The British consul in his report on the trade of Tripoli remarks that the sponge fishery on that coast is entirely in the hands of Greeks, and is carried on by means of numerous small craft, employing about 700 men among them. The fishing takes place in the summer months only and is effected by machine boats provided with proper diving apparatus, or by trawlers and harpoon boats. The diving machines, as the divers have time to select and cut them, naturally secure the best sponges, but the trawl nets and harpoon boats, which can only fish in comparatively shallow waters, to a greater or less extent damage the sponges by tearing them from the bottom.

The best sponges are found to the westward of Tripoli, the quality becoming inferior toward the east. The diving is dangerous, owing to the presence of sharks, and other accidents to be met with, such as remaining too long under water or diving beyond the proper limits, which often exhausts the divers and proves fatal to them.—English Mechanic.

Hardly an Encore.

A quartet was giving a concert before the patients of the insane hospital and was singing a number into a rather mournful cadence and a subdued refrain. The audience, with the best of good humor, such as invariably characterizes the audiences at the hospital, heard it to the bitter end, and when its last note had died away an old lady with a virtuous and dignified air of recognition in her face peeped suddenly up out of the audience, and turning toward the stage said reverently, "O Lord forgive them, for they know not what they do."—Lewiston Journal.

WHAT TO GIVE.

A Time-honored Custom Which People Generally Will Observe.

Almost every man is asking the question: "What can I buy for a suitable Christmas present?" Some men think the custom of dispensing Christmas presents ought to be frowned down; that it forces them to make expenditures they can ill afford; that the giving of gifts is not a pleasure but is suggested by a sense of duty. The great mass of men, however, remembering the days of their childhood, look to the Christmas season with joyous anticipation. They are anxious to purchase suitable gifts, but they do not know what to buy. Right here is where the advertiser shows his foresight. He advertises his goods, showing the prospective purchaser what to buy and where to buy it. There are many merchants in Durham whose Christmas trade amounts to a considerable part of the year's gross receipts. These are the merchants who advertise in THE GLOBE, which has a circulation larger than the combined lists of all other papers printed in Durham, and which prints the news when news is news. The live ones are in our Christmas edition.

The great value of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for catarrh is vouched for by thousands of people whom it has cured.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

C. A. Thompson, Serrmour, Ind., writes: "My sister Jennie, when she was a young girl, suffered from white swelling, which greatly impaired her general health and made her blood very impure. In the spring, she was not able to do anything and could scarcely get about. More than a year ago she took a bottle of Botanic Blood Balm, and now she is perfectly cured."

M. D. Lane, Devereaux, Ga., writes: "One summer, several years ago, while railroad engineering in Mississippi, I became badly affected with malarial blood poison that impaired my health for more than two years. Several offensive ulcers appeared on my legs, and nothing seemed to give permanent relief until I took six bottles of B. B. B., which cured me entirely."

G. W. Chandler, Red Fork, Ark., writes: "I was so weak that it was only with great effort that I could do anything. I used several bottles of Botanic Blood Balm, and can now do a good day's work."

Walter Bridges, Athens, Tenn., writes: "For six years I had been afflicted with running sores and an enlargement of the bone in my leg. I tried everything I heard of without any permanent benefit until Botanic Blood Balm was recommended to me. After using six bottles the sores healed, and I am now in better health than I have ever been. I send this testimonial unsolicited, because I want others to be benefited."

THE KEELEY INSTITUTE!

Twelve Years of Established Merit!

NOTE OF WARNING!

TO THE PUBLIC:

DWIGHT, Ill., April 30, 1892.

As a matter of justice to ourselves and to the reputation of Dr. Leslie E. Keeley's Double Chloride of Gold remedies, for the cure of the liquor, opium, morphine and tobacco diseases and Neurasthenia, we warn the public that these remedies are used by no institution or sanitarium in the United States except those established by our company under the uniform name of "The Keeley Institute."

All others claiming to use our remedies are frauds and impostors.

We have now sixty Keeley Institutes established in various parts of the United States where the Keeley treatment is administered and the Keeley remedies sold. We, however, caution all to examine well and know that they are dealing with genuine representatives, authorized by us, before taking the treatment or purchasing remedies. The fraudulent establishments use the name of "Bi-Chloride of Gold," or similar titles. The newspapers do not discriminate sufficiently to know that they are imitators, and so put down all accidents occurring at such establishments as being brought about by the Keeley treatment. This is a matter of much concern to us, hence this warning.

Respectfully yours,

THE LESLIE E. KEELEY CO.

Curtis J. Judd, Sec'y and Treas.

The Keeley Institute at Greensboro, N. C., is the only one in the state, and all representations that there is in the state any cure that is identical with, or the same as, the Keeley Double Chloride of Gold Cure are malicious, false, and made for the purpose of deceiving. We learn with indignant regret that such claim is being made, and feeling that it is harmful to us it will prove more disastrous to those who are deceived thereby, we sound this warning.

THE KEELEY INSTITUTE, Greensboro, N. C.
